

MACLEOD GETS TWO TRAINS A DAY TO CALGARY

MacLeod will get back to its double daily train service to Calgary, commencing on October 3. Such was the announcement made by Charley Murphy, general manager, western lines C.P.R., when in Lethbridge during the week-end. Mr. Murphy, in company with J. M. Cameron, superintendent of the Alberta district, and C. D. MacKintosh, superintendent of the southern Alberta district, toured the south, commencing at Calgary, on Saturday and Sunday.

They came from Calgary on Saturday in a track motor, Mr. Murphy always using this method in making his inspections of the tracks. On Sunday they went south of the city and Mr. Murphy said he found everything in readiness for the moving of the crop. Conditions throughout the district he traversed were splendid.

When asked about the Weyburn-Lethbridge line, Mr. Murphy said nothing could be done until the contractors can obtain sufficient labor.

For some time residents along the Macleod-Calgary line have been agitating for the resumption of service as was given last winter. Mr. Cameron announced that the winter timetable will go into effect on October 3 and on that date the two trains a day will be run between Macleod and Calgary.

FORMER RUSSIAN GENERAL WORKS IN N. Y. GARAGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—"I want to prove that the claim of the Bolsheviks that men of my class, the great middle class, in Russia were incompetents, wasters and idlers was false."

This is how George Y. d'Herberg, one of the best known mining engineers in Russia and former Major-General in the Czar's army and member of the Grand Duke Nicholas' staff, explains why he worked for weeks as a mechanic in a New York garage when he could have had important engineering positions by revealing his identity.

Consulting Engineer
D'Herberg, stripped of land and money by the Bolsheviks, is now consulting engineer for a New York bearing factory.

Madam d'Herberg, who was formerly Baroness Tube, is learning the mysteries of an American kitchen.

D'Herberg was a wealthy shipowner and mine operator at Rostov-on-Don. He served as captain in the Russo-Japanese war and was wounded seven times in hand to hand engagements. Emerging as a Colonel, d'Herberg went into the reserve and resumed his technical studies. He developed large coal and other mining properties in Siberia.

Fought in World War

When the world war was declared in 1914, d'Herberg went into service as an officer of transport. He was attached to Grand Duke Nicholas' staff and served until the revolution and the disintegration of the imperial army.

While on one of the campaigns d'Herberg obtained a transfer of a sick doctor, attached to his department. That act later saved d'Herberg's life.

With the collapse of the Kerensky regime and the seizure of power by the Bolsheviks, d'Herberg was thrown into prison and his property taken from him. He was condemned to be executed. On the day before his scheduled death, a Bolshevik prison doctor came to him.

Doctor Saved Him

"You did me a good turn once," he said. "Now it is my turn."

It was the doctor d'Herberg had transferred.

With the assistance of the doctor he was smuggled into a hospital and later went to the Finnish border.

He stayed in Finland while General Yudenitch was in power. There he met Madame d'Herberg, a refugee.

With a wife, little money, no English and a technical education d'Herberg came to America via Sweden to build his life anew.

Now d'Herberg is starting again to "get up in the world," having graduated already from the garage job to the desk of a civil engineer. "And when I reach the top of my progress in here," he said, "and stand where I once stood in Russia, I will turn to the Bolsheviks and ask them to repeat that the bourgeoisie cannot make a living if left to their own devices."—Morning Albertan.

FIRST LOAD OF NEW WHEAT ARRIVES TUESDAY

Max St. George has the honor of hauling into town the first load of wheat from this season's crop. He came in on Tuesday with a load which was received at the Alberta Pacific Elevator and graded No. 1. The price by the load was $2.38. Threshing is now pretty general and the grade is good.

AUTOMOBILE PART 400 YEARS OLD

PARIS, France.—Perhaps the oldest design used in the modern automobile is that of the universal joint, which in principle is identical with the first universal developed by Carden around 1520, A.D. For many years we called a propeller shaft and joints a Carden shaft, and even today all Europe refers to it as this kind of shaft. While the original Carden shaft, invented by Jerome Carden, employed the exact principles of the present day standard type, the latter is to be sure quite different in detail structure and modified for automobile use.

Were it not for Carden, however, our engineers would be unable to design a shaft-drive car. Like the original Carden joint the spider is all metal, and composed essentially of a metal cross or spider. To each pair of ends of this cross a yoke is attached so that one yoke can move sideways and in the opposite direction from the other yoke in each oscillates on its own spider ends. Of course this is covered by means of a housing to keep out dirt. Wiggle your thumb and you get universal joint action.

Such joints are used in all modern automobiles and trucks in order to allow this propeller shaft to revolve, and at the same time move up and down and sideways, relative to the rear axle. The axle bounces up and down according to road conditions, but the propeller shaft must connect this bouncing part with another unit attached to the frame of the car.

Usually this is the transmission and since this does not move up and down as the rear axle does the propeller shaft must have these universal joints. One can see that without the joints the shaft would bend, and then could not transmit power.—Morning Albertan.

"THE PROBATION WIFE"

"The Probation Wife," Norma Talmadge's latest Select Picture, in which she is presented by Joseph M. Schenck, will be seen on Wed. and Thurs. next at the Empress Theatre. It is the story of an inmate of a notorious cage, who later reforms through the love and trust of a good man.

Josephine, or Jo as she was called, was one of the most important attractions of the Domino Cafe. Harrison Wade, a wealthy New Yorker, sees her here and gives her money to escape. She is discovered, and before she gets another chance to escape the place is raided. Jo and the other cabaret girls are sentenced to three years in the reformatory.

After two years of imprisonment, Jo manages to escape. She purchases a fashionable outfit with the money she has concealed. During her confinement in the reformatory Jo had made the best of her spare time by reading and studying, so that she is able to converse in a manner in keeping with her modish appearance.

After having made her escape, Jo decides that the only way to advance and get the things in life that are worth while is through some man—the only way she had ever been taught. So she boards a train for New York ever on the alert for the helpful man. She discovers him in the next compartment. He proves to be no other than Harrison Wade, the man who had tried to help her to escape. She crudely and bluntly makes a proposition to him to trade herself for clothes and whatever else he may be willing to give.

Wade believes there is some good in the girl and marries her, much to her surprise. Jo calls herself Wade's probation wife. They live very happily until Jo meets Huntly McMerton, a prominent and wealthy New Yorker. They become very friendly. Wade thinks they are in love with each other, and prepares to bring divorce proceedings when he finds his wife in the arms of McMerton. Explanations follow and happiness is in store for all.

THE REAL THING

A short time ago when many of the Indians were almost starving and the old people could not get even tea, let alone sugar, Messrs. Symming and Co. of Calgary heard through Reach and Co. of their dire straits and they at once packed up a box of tea and sugar and other things which Father Ruau received with a gratitude difficult to express in English. And after a while another parcel arrived from the same source. In the midst of a large business this firm found time to remember of a few poor old Indians—who would ever think that Business has a heart.

SEEKING FOR NEW AUTOMOBILE POWER

There are approximately 2,000,000 registered automobiles in this country, and the automobile industry is still in its infancy. The price of gasoline is getting to a point where the operation of pleasure cars will be an expensive luxury, while the cost of motor haulage in commercial practice has already attained alarming heights.

Experts say motors can be built to run on kerosene. This makes the outlook somewhat brighter than it now appears, and it is lucky that some relief will come from advances in engine construction which will enable motorists to get more mileage out of a gallon. An Italian chemist asserts he has discovered a method by which liquid hydrogen is cheaply produced, and it may be used in driving motor vehicles.

Of all things alcohol offers the greatest hope of being a substitute for gasoline. Ways have been devised to produce alcohol from nearly any available source of saccharine or starchy materials. Just before the war the Germans were producing about 100,000,000 gallons of alcohol annually. More than two-thirds of this was obtained from potatoes, one-sixth from grain distilleries, and the remainder from yeast, molasses and fruits.

In 1913 France was producing nearly 70,000,000 gallons of alcohol each year, of which nearly two-thirds came from beets and the remainder from molasses and grains.

BRITAIN AND THE U. S. MUST STAND UNITED

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Noteworthy addresses marked the annual dinner tonight of the Canadian Bar association, and especially cordial were the expressions of sympathy between representative men of Canada and the United States. On the other hand, ex-President Taft urged his hearers to pay no heed to the superficial wind that blows every little while. "We know not whence it cometh or whither it goeth," he declared, "know that the heart of the American people beats with loyalty to the mother country from which it has derived its fundamental principles of liberty and equality and the administration of justice."

On the other hand, Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister of Canada, was no less emphatic that "while this country is determined and genuinely British, it is determined and genuinely friendly to the United States."

Imperial Relations

Sir Robert Borden touched on imperial relations, expressing the view that sufficient preparation had not been made for consideration of such relations at the imperial conference next summer, and expressing the hope that the question would not be taken up without the gravest possible consideration.

U.S. Will Join

Judge William A. Vadham of the court of general sessions, New York, definitely took the stand that the United States would join the League of Nations. "We shall join the League of Nations, and we shall do it wholeheartedly," he explained, his words being loudly applauded.

Sir James Aikens, president of the association, presided at the dinner.

Hon. Arthur Meighen called particular attention to the address made by Sir Auckland Geddes earlier in the day. No word, Mr. Meighen said, could have been more timely, no message could have been more necessary. The purpose of Sir Auckland was to bring home a sense of what was ordinarily termed world unrest, and a conviction as to the depth of its roots.

Sir Auckland Geddes

During the war Sir Auckland Geddes' duties in conducting recruiting in England, Scotland and Wales, he said in his address this morning, brought him into intimate contact with millions of people. He had found a condition of physical ill-being to a scale not imagined possible. Families were disorganized and separated by their living and working conditions. Minds were mere machines, their mind devoid of a creative thought. Nothing could have a more serious effect on human life.

Industrial Conditions

Industrial conditions were such that hundreds of thousands of adult men and women had never married. They lived among strangers, none knowing whether they came nor where they went and none caring. They were denied the institutions of home and parenthood. That, said Sir Auckland, caused profound unrest, which was eating the hearts out of those men and women. The same conditions had existed to some extent on this continent, but here there were open fields and farms calling men to them. In Britain and European countries there was no such outlet.

Mens minds were in a stupor. Some of them, when they finished their work, got drunk on Saturday night and sought to stay in that condition until Monday morning. The world unrest was a by-product of the industrial unrest which gave power and wealth to industrial democracies. There one must look for the heart of the trouble if he would apply the remedy properly.

GOOD MEDICINE

Laughter is contagious. It spreads like honey over buttered bread.

Did you ever note what happens in the house of the movie or the legitimate drama when one in the place breaks out in a fit of uncontrollable mirth? He has started something.

First, there's a titter from some other part of the house.

Then it is taken up and the volume swells along until the whole crowd is in a happy uproar.

Just because one person saw something or heard something that appealed to his risibilities.

Folks like laughter. It is good medicine. There ought to be more of it. Everyone should be on the lookout for opportunity to laugh.

The world knows there's plenty of sorrow. A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market.

Hufeland says it is one of the greatest helps to digestion. Carlyle points out that no man who has once heartily and wholly laughed can be altogether and irremediably depraved. Laugh if you are wise, Martial advises. And beware of him who hates the laughter of a child, sagely warns Lavater.

"A good laugh is sunshine in the house." Open the windows and let the sunshine in.

CATTLE EMBARGO CANNOT BE LIFTED

EDMONTON, Sept. 2.—The question of whether the embargo on the import of Canadian cattle into Great Britain will be lifted was settled by J. S. MacDonald, editor of the Farmer and Stock Breeder, (London), speaking on behalf of delegates to the Imperial Press Conference here yesterday.

"I am sorry to say we cannot allow the entry of Canadian stocker cattle into Great Britain," said Mr. MacDonald. "We have reached the stage where we can raise enough cattle to supply our own needs, and the British law provides at present that Canadian cattle for fattening can not be imported. It is not that we do not want Canadian cattle, but that we prefer them fat and ready for slaughter."

Dominating Factor

"We want you to realize that we have our own point of view in this matter. Seventy-five per cent. of the capital invested in agriculture in Great Britain is invested in the cattle industry, and the industry is naturally the dominating factor in British agriculture. There is no likelihood that the embargo on Canadian cattle for feeding will be lifted shortly."

Mr. MacDonald addressed a gathering under the auspices of the Edmonton board of trade in the university buildings. Dr. H. M. Tory, president of the university welcomed the delegates in a forceful speech, assuring them of the loyalty to imperialistic principles of the majority of people in Northern Alberta. Speaking of the investment of British capital, he said that they preferred that Britishers should make money out of the development of Canadian natural resources, where Canadians lacked the capital to exploit them, rather than outsiders should do so.

Social Functions

The day was spent by the newscapermen in a round of social functions favored by fine weather. The unfurling by Lady Burnham of a flag presented by the school children of Edmonton, England, to those of Edmonton, Canada, was an impressive ceremony, attended by 5,000 children as well as many adults.

The party were guests of the province at a dinner in the evening given by Lieut.-Gov. R. G. Brett. Lord Burnham acknowledged on behalf of the delegates the welcome extended on behalf of the province of Alberta.

The ladies of the press party were entertained by the women's press club of Edmonton to lunch at mid-day.—Calgary Herald.

Solution of Problem

The solution of the problem and the finding of a peace of Europe was a task challenging the greatest minds. To continue civilization, and before these problems can be dealt with, it is essential that there should be arranged between the nations to secure international peace to allow of efforts being turned by each country toward its internal affairs. The nations of Europe must declare a peace of the Europeans. If the peace is to be enduring there must be developed a close sympathy, responsibility and understanding between the British nations and the United States.

"On the basis of such a friendship, the peace of Europe could be established," Sir Auckland declared adding, "I doubt if for many years it could exist in any other form."

"Canada, by her position, her interests, her knowledge, and her experience is placed so that she can build a golden bridge of sympathy between Britain and the United States."—Morning Albertan.

COL. DENISON WILL SOAK THE BOOTLEGGERS

TORONTO, Sept. 4.—Bootleggers and others who assume a big risk by their connection with the illicit liquor business, received a timely warning from Magistrate Denison in the police court yesterday. In remanding for sentence Isaac Greenwood, who had sold two bottles of whiskey while he was out of work, his worship stated that he had been instructed to enforce the law and in the future the fine for selling liquor would not be less than $1,000.

ETHEL CLAYTON IN DRAMATIC PICTURE OF MARRIED LIFE

"THE 13th COMMANDMENT" INDICTS PAMPERED WIFE WHO DEMANDS ALL

Stories about young married life are always interesting. Rupert Hughes "Thirteenth Commandment" created quite a stir when it ran serially in a popular magazine and later as a novel. Now it has been adapted to the screen and will be shown with Ethel Clayton in the leading role at the Empress Theatre for 2 days, commencing Monday next.

The heroine is the pampered daughter of a middle western merchant. She has always had all she wanted and, when she becomes engaged to a young New Yorker, supposes him to be rich because he spends lots of money on her. But a trip to the metropolis shows her that he is really poor and is making tremendous sacrifices in order to satisfy her whims. Other dramatic developments convince her of the injustice of the attitude of the pretty woman who demands a heavy financial tribute from her husband for simply being idle and extravagant.

She pursues an independent career and, when her fiancé is ready to wed her, goes to him on a "fifty-fifty" basis. Miss Clayton is supported by a fine cast, which includes Anna Q. Nilsson, Monte Blue, Charles Meredith and Irving Cummings. It is a Paramount-Artcraft picture directed by Robert G. Vignola.

MANCHESTER, ENG., GETS NEWS BY TYPEWRITER

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The national executive of the Typographical Association here has received an ultimatum from the employers that unless the members of the Liverpool and Manchester branches return to work by tomorrow a fortnight's notice will be tendered Saturday to all members of the association outside of London.

The Masters' Federation feels it is impossible to conduct business under conditions which have prevailed for the past few months and are, therefore, compelled to suspend work until the employees are prepared to abide by agreements entered into by their accredited representatives.

Action is Opposed

The masters believe it is a deliberate policy of the two branches to ruin the industry. Nearly a quarter of a million operatives have loyally accepted the national settlement and every allied trades union in the printing trade has opposed the action of the two branches on strike.

The strong point is made by the strikers that the two branches were not informed of the offer of the employers made at the conference in London on August 24. This statement, however, is denied by the general president of the Typographical Association, who says that representatives of branches were consulted and adopted the position that they could not accept differential treatment for jobbing and news.

The Manchester evening papers are publishing typewritten sheets, giving a summary of the news, which finds a ready sale.—Calgary Herald.

PLUCKY RESCUE BY TEN YEAR OLD GIRL

MILK RIVER, Sept. 4.—On September 3, about 7 p.m., the home of H. V. Cropley caught fire and burned to the ground. Mr. Cropley had left the house but a few minutes before to come to town to get some groceries, and while away his house caught fire. Mr. Cropley has seven small children, five being at the house at the time the house caught fire.

Mr. Cropley buried his wife a few months ago and at the time the fire originated the oldest one of the five that were in the house was a girl only 10 years of age. The fire originated by the youngest one of the five lighting a stick in the stove and then poking it under a sofa, which ignited with fury until the flames were soon leaping to the roof. The little girl was thoughtful enough to take the younger brothers out. Mr. Harvey was the first to arrive on the scene with his car, and the rushed into the house to see if there were any whom had not escaped. Not finding anyone left within Mr. Harvey picked up the little ones and brought them into town.

The fire rapidly spread until the house was a sheet of flames and soon burned to the ground. All their bed clothing, furniture and the household utensils were lost in the fire. Mr. Cropley has one boy with the Royal North West Police at Regina and one other away from home at work. But there are seven too young to do any work, all these without a mother or a home, places rather a heavy burden of responsibility upon the father at this time.

Mr. Cropley will receive $1100 insurance, which will aid him some, but this is nothing compared with his total loss.—Lethbridge Herald.

RAILWAY MEN GET INCREASE

WINNIPEG, Sept. 4.—Twenty per cent increase in wages to take effect at once and to be retroactive from May 1, 1920 for all employees other than officials of the Canadian National Railway system, is announced today by A. Mr. Tisdale said that he was not instructed when the back pay would be forthcoming but said that the wage increase would go into effect at once.

A conference on wage increases was called on Monday in Winnipeg between representatives of the western employees of the Canadian National and officials of that company. It is thought the award announced today will make the conference unnecessary. Lethbridge Herald.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3.—This year's sockeye pack in B.C. is practically finished and with an immediate prospect of a poor market for the cheaper grades of salmon, the 62 canneries, operating on the coast are preparing to close down for the season. An average sized pack has been put up.

Fishermen have been paid top-notch prices, 500 per cent more than in some previous years and the canneries owners have already sold the estimated pack of 350,000 cases of sockeye at a total price of seven million dollars. Another five millions are expected to be realized from the sale of chum, pinks, redsprings and cohoes, so that the total return from the pack of 10 million will rank away beyond anything ever obtained in cash returns in the history of the industry.

Canneries on rivers and inlet broke all previous records. The Fraser did much better than expected in view of the bad showing of recent years, and the trap on the Vancouver Island coast are credited with yielding one-tenth of the total pack.

—Calgary Herald.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—A resolution recommending the suppression of Hearst publications, news services and films in Canada, will be one of the matters to be considered by the conference of Canadian Clubs, to be held here, on September 6 and 7. This will come up as a resolution, submitted by the Hamilton Canadian Club. It sets forth that this resolution has already been submitted to 60 affiliated clubs of which 35 replied, all endorsing the resolution with the exceptions of Winnipeg, Calgary, Saskatoon and London, Ont.

Grounds on which the resolution is based are the spreading of anti-British feeling in this country by the free distribution throughout Canada of Hearst publications and news service.—Calgary Herald.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Flying from Ottawa to Camp Borden, a distance of approximately 300 miles, with two passengers, in 2½ hours, Captain G. O. Johnson, of the Canadian Air Force set what is probably a record for rapid transportation in Canada. The same journey by train means leaving Ottawa at 10 p.m., and, if all train connections are made, and the trains arrive on time, arriving at Camp Borden at 1 o'clock the next afternoon.

Flying at Bristol, Col. Scott, director of civilian flying, accompanied by Captain Johnson in a DH-9, made the journey from Camp Borden to Ottawa in three hours, and on the return to Camp Borden, Captain Scott and his two passengers covered the same distance in half an hour less. Leaving Ottawa at 2:30 p.m., the party arrived at the hangars at Camp Borden in time for dinner at 6 o'clock.

The time for the journey is looked upon as a record for Canadian flying.—Calgary Herald.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—More than 2,000 white and negro longshoremen engaged in a pitched battle at Pier 30, North River, yesterday, which required police reserves from virtually all precincts along the water front to quell.

A number of whites and negroes were arrested as ring leaders of opposing forces after several wounded had been removed to hospitals.

The fight started when 1,000 white longshoremen reported for their day's work at the Southern Pacific pier and found five hundred negroes unloading a vessel.

Bad blood engendered, it was said when negroes were imported to break the recent longshoremen's strike quickly led to blows. In the free-for-all which followed, freight hooks, clubs, stones and fists were used freely.—Calgary Herald.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Canadian export trade in animals and animal produce during the first four months of the present fiscal year, shows a favorable balance amounting to $29,071,148, representing 80 per cent of the total trade value of agriculture. The export trade, however, shows a reduction in value of approximately 50 per cent when compared with the exports of the same period of 1919. Export figures for the first four months of the present fiscal year were: $56,451,119, against $90,328,265 for the corresponding period of last year. Imports in 1920 totalled $27,373,971 against $27,799,712. The trade balance in Canada's favor in 1920 was $29,071,148 against $62,528,573 for the corresponding four months of 1919.

Agriculture, including all classes of agricultural and vegetable produce and animal and animal produce, has a favorable trade balance of $33,512,027. This balance is, however, less by about $11,400,000, than that of the same period in 1919. The figures are: Four months, 1919 exports $236,805,924; imports, $89,345,345; trade balance, $147,460,579. For 1920: Exports $165,959,339; imports, $132,447,212; trade balance, $33,512,027.

While agriculture has been able to maintain a favorable balance of trade the total trade in all classes during the first four months of the fiscal year, as compared with the same period of 1919 shows a reduction of over $4,000,000, and a reduction during the first four months of the present fiscal year, in the net trade value of exports as compared with imports of approximately $4,800,000.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3.—Civic bus lines are established by municipalities adjacent to Winnipeg in protest against the zone system established under the latest decision of the Public Utilities Commission. Rates in most of the surrounding municipalities were more than doubled under the new plan. In Winnipeg it is proposed to resurrect the jitney to counteract the discontent over the increased cost of trams.

The company has cut down the number of cars, while abolishing all workmen's tickets and increasing fares 40 per cent. The jitney was eliminated in Winnipeg by the council forbidding their operation when the company promised to improve the service—that was when the fares were according to the terms of the franchise. The city solicitor has warned the council that when the Public Utilities Commission found the physical value of the company's holding were worth $25,000,000 this was establishing a minimum below which the city could not go in acquiring the company holdings at the expiration of the franchise in 1927.

That is a big feature in the city's determination to appeal the entire decision.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—An official denial has been issued by Elysée palace of reports published by provincial newspapers and widely circulated in Paris, that President Deschanel, at the request of Premier Millerand, has tendered a letter of resignation from the presidency.

This letter is alleged to be in the possession of the premier, who is said to be awaiting the settlement of various diplomatic questions before acquainting the country with the president's withdrawal.

Well informed circles, however, insist that M. Deschanel will not return to Elysée palace. His probable successor is being openly discussed by the politicians.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 3.—Anthracite operators and miners last night signed a two-year contract embodying the terms of the award made by the coal commission and approved by President Wilson.

The agreement was signed under protest by the representatives of the miners, whose scale committee will meet here today for the purpose of asking that the wage agreement be re-opened and the miners given such further increases as was done in the case of the bituminous coal diggers.

The scale committee went on record in a statement to the operators that the award of the committee was far from being satisfactory; that it was economically unsound, disturbed the differentials, straddled the real issues, would cause confusion and would react against harmony and co-operation.

The miners were prepared to present new demands at once, but it is understood the operators let it be known that they were there for one purpose and that was to accept the award as approved by President Wilson, and that if the workers had anything further to communicate it would have to go through regular channels.

One thing agreed to, which was not a part of the award and which caused a long discussion, was that the back pay should be turned over to the workmen on or before October 16, or in 45 days.

While the negotiations were going on it was estimated that at least half of the 170,000 mine workers of all classes had quit work as a protest against the award.—Calgary Herald.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—Quebec province will have no apples to export this year, although the crop is 25 or 30 per cent heavier than last season, according to P. Reid, secre-

NOTICE

To Empress Theatre Patrons

Owing to the continued rise in the cost of pictures, etc., we are compelled to raise our prices to 35c and 15c on Friday and Saturday as well as other nights.

In this connection we would like to point out, that Mr. Bowker signed contracts for these pictures last year and of course at considerably lower rates than present. These contracts signed by Mr. Bowker having expired, we have been compelled to pay much higher prices for new ones. Our policy is to give a first class programme, such as shown in the best houses in Calgary. These houses are charging 35c and up, and we find it quite impossible to give a similar programme at old prices.

We trust that our patrons will recognise our difficulties in this respect, and thank them in anticipation of their continued patronage.

CANADIAN

To the People of Canada

THERE are many things which you need not buy unless you choose. But footwear is not among them. You must have shoes. From the standpoint of your health, as well as for comfort and appearance, good shoes are a necessity. And that fact alone places upon the manufacturer of shoes a responsibility which he must at all times appreciate.

That responsibility to the Canadian public is shared by the 158 manufacturers of shoes in Canada, from whom you buy nearly $50,000,000 worth of footwear every year.

The fact that we have built up an industry of such magnitude is the best evidence that we do appreciate this responsibility. One may think that our responsibility ends when we have produced footwear of honest value and sincere workmanship, and have placed it on the shelf of the retail store where it is accessible to you. That is one essential service which our industry is called upon to render.

But we cannot dismiss our responsibility quite so easily. We believe that we should do more than that.

Good shoes are of such daily importance that we ought to make public certain facts and conditions which govern the quality of the product we make, and the value which you receive for your money. We ought to point out clearly, the part which you play, and the influence which you exercise, in establishing those conditions. We should urge upon you, your own responsibility in the matter, and show you just how you can help to maintain the quality of the footwear which we offer you.

This is the first advertisement of a series which will be devoted to that purpose.

Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. When you buy Made in Canada Footwear you are assured, at fair prices always, of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Service and Style.

SHOE MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION OF CANADA

CANADA'S WESTERN COLONIZATION PROJECT

(By George W. Austen)
One of the chief economic blights on Canada today is the holding idle of millions of acres of fine agricultural land near the railways in Western Canada. About 20,000,000 acres within 20 miles of the railways are kept idle, for speculative gain, while settlers by the thousand seek 30, 40 or 50 miles into the country to get reasonably cheap land whereon to settle. This 20,000,000 acres would give homes to half a million people, most of whom would be active producers. It would produce crops, valued at nearly a billion dollars. It would furnish $75,000,000 a year added revenue to the railways, and correspondingly large sums to other transportation interests, and be a market for hundreds of millions worth of manufactured commodities each year. Yet it is held idle because it is owned by persons who are looking for large profits from the improving of land at present much farther away from railways.

Is it not a crime against our national progress that this absentee ownership, and blockade on production, should be endured? Canada is beginning to receive an astonishingly large immigration. Next year, the stream of today will be an inflowing river of new settlers. In the next ten years, Canada will probably have a growth without parallel in her history. The international economic situation foreshadows that. Why then, should we not be business-like enough to prepare the way for economical settlement of the newcomers? Canada has about 10,000 miles of railway, or enough to serve us for fifteen or twenty years, with only a few extensions. Why should we not make a direct effort to locate the newcomers settling on the land, in economic positions? That is, get them into vacant places within the present sphere of settlement, make the population denser, and save the great expense of having to develop remote areas unnecessarily? The Western branch line railways are frequently operated at a loss, merely to accommodate settlements far out of main line of traffic when these settlements might just as well be close to the main lines, or the idle land so conspicuous there.

The formation of the Western Canada Colonization Association, which includes prominent Western and Eastern financial and business leaders, is a movement to deal with this precise difficulty. Western business men originated the association, ten of them paying in $10,000 each to a fund, and Easterners also contributed to it in like proportion. Corporations subscribed liberally, and a fund of a million dollars is in hand. The Association aims to get this idle 20,000,000 acres into the hands of actual producers, and to assist them in every way possible. It wants to make the main railway-served areas of the West well populated—a thriving, farm-to-farm settlement producing foodstuffs by the billion dollars worth. Before the war, the Westerners talked grandiloquently about having the "breadbasket" of the world, and fondly figured on wheat crops of 500,000,000 bushels. Instead, they have averaged about 200,000,000 bushels. High prices for grains, cattle, and dairy products have kept the West prosperous, not quantity production. The war interrupted the flow of settlement somewhat, but now that it is resuming full force, astute Western men see the paramount importance of removing all obstacles to successful settlement.

A simple remedy might seem to lie along the lines advocated by the single-taxers. A heavy tax on the idle lands would force sale of them to producers. The Saskatchewan and Alberta Governments have "idle land taxes" now in force, but these amount to about $10 a section. They are not heavy enough, being only a few cents an acre, to compel unloading. If the Regina and Edmonton Governments did not know that much of this idle farm land is owned by farmer-capitalists of their own provinces, they might risk imposing a heavy penalty. But everyone in the West is a land speculator, more or less, and the choicest of speculations is this idle land which is so ideally situated as regards transportation. The Colonization Association has not revealed the methods it proposes to use to get this idle land into the hands of settlers, but lacking tax penalties, can only use moral suasion. The Dominion Government might put on an unimproved land tax, like the Australian Government, but as the Western Provinces—not including British Columbia—do not own their Crown lands, land taxation is regarded as altogether a provincial sphere. The Western Agrarian party, however, proposes to raise revenue by taxing unimproved land and this may become an issue in politics later on.

The value of a settler and his family to a railway, in terms of traffic, is figured at about $750. The deficit on the Canadian National Railways will be about $50,000,000 a year under present circumstances. Suppose that the close-in idle lands along its lines in the West were thickly settled—according to Western standards—its earnings would increase by about $20,000,000 net. But the settlers who take up this well-located land must be persons of capital. The homesteader has to go forty or fifty miles back to get a location. Few Englishmen have enough experience in Canadian farming methods to go on land of this value, unless they have plenty of reserve capital. The prospects are, therefore, that either Canadians or Americans will be the occupants of the vast idle acreage. The Association plans a Canadianization campaign among these newcomer settlers, as well as among the foreign colonies that dot the West so thickly. If there is to be real assimilation in the "melting pot," some direct agency must be constantly at work, and the Association seems to fill the bill.

Of all the 250,000,000 acres of good farm land yet waiting owners in Canada, none is better adapted for immediate settlement than this block of 20,000,000 acres. Even the Soldier Settlement Board, which has put 6,000 soldiers actually on the land producing, found difficulty in getting suitable land, at reasonable prices. After the Board had been in operation for a season, the Minister of the Interior had to obtain powers of expropriation for it. The soldier-settlers have been allowed to select their own farms improved or unimproved, and as long as the price was right, the board advanced most of the money. But a large block of land had to be obtained from the Hudson's Bay Company to provide for the demand for land, and the 20,000,000 acres was passed by. The Board has applications from the 10,000 ex-soldiers for loans, and has approved about 75,000 applications, for an amount of more than $60,000,000. This indicates that, even if a million or more acres is now being cultivated by soldier-settlers, far more settlement is awaiting selection of land, and approval of settlement plans.

If Canada is to maintain a surplus of exports, she must enlarge her output of foodstuffs and raw materials. In 1919, 53,000,000 acres were in field crops, and they produced food valued at $1,974,000,000. This is an average of only $37 an acre. The yield of wheat was only about ten bushels to the acre. Now, our imports are more than a billion a year and have exceeded our exports in the last few months. Unless our economic position alters so that we can again pay indebtedness abroad with merchandise, or unless we can import capital, we shall face a business crisis. The way must be cleared, at all costs, for fullest possible opportunity to use our wealth.

Within Bounds
While making a visit to New York, a man unmistakably of country origin was knocked down in the street by an automobile. A crowd instantly surrounded him with condolences and questions.

"Are you hurt, my friend?" kindly asked a gentleman who was first among the rescuers as he helped the stranger to his feet and brushed the mud and dust from his clothes.

"Well," came the cautious reply of one evidently given to non-hominal brevity of speech "it aint done me no good."—Judge.

DEMOCRACY

The Canadian Nation, edited in Ottawa by a former Calgarian, is an advocate of a thoroughly independent Canada with separation from Great Britain. In discussing the proposal in a recent issue, the editor says: "Democracy is not perfect, but it will never attain any nearer perfection unless it is given a chance, and it is infinitely more preferable than any monarchical form of government, however modified."

It is something to hear from this source the admission that democracy is not perfect. We have always suspected as much, though the advocates of the system are slow to admit. With the statement that it is better, even in its imperfect state, than any form of monarchical government, however modified, we must take issue. The records do not justify such a statement.

The most extreme case of democracy is that of Russia, where the people under two dictators—Lenine and Trotsky—put down monarchical rule and undertook the function of government for themselves. We have heard much from Russia since the war, but the best we have heard is not good enough to warrant the assumption that democracy in that country is preferable to a benevolent monarchical form of government.

But there is no need to go to Russia for an illustration. On the North American continent we have democracies in the form of republics, from whose history we are privileged to draw comparisons. Viewed in the broadest sense, is there a Canadian of intelligence who would be willing to change from the existing Canadian status under the British flag to something patterned on the plan of any of these republics? What have they to offer that we have not that is worth having? Is their system of government better than our own? Under their system, are the people any freer than ourselves, in any and every life relationship?

We have democracy in Canada just as advanced as anywhere in the world, and more advanced than in most republics. Only in theory is there any interference in our self-government. In fact, we govern ourselves just as we see fit. If there is any failure in our democracy the fault lies with ourselves and not with the system.

Ideal democracy is impossible except where a preponderating majority of the people are highly intelligent. The trouble with democracy in operation is that the intelligent and well-versed section of the community is forced to fight constantly to maintain even a semblance of real democracy in government because of the persistent insistence of the ignorant that things are not as they should be, no matter what they are.

Democracy's chance lies in more education, not in any and every so-called group endeavoring to grasp the reins of government at the first opportunity. And when the people are all educated as they should be it will not make much difference whether they live in a republic or a limited monarchy of the benevolent sort. They will have what they want in any event, and what they want will be what is best for them.—Calgary Herald.

DON'T KEEP THAT BOY OR GIRL OUT OF SCHOOL

Obviously the following article is not intended to create ill feeling; nor can any portion of it be justly interpreted as a "slam" at any one. And further, all contributions to the undersigned makes to the Macleod Times will bear his signature.

For the sake of explanation let us suppose a boy in grade nine is kept out of school a week, fortnight, month or more, to work on his father's farm or for some other reason. The result is as follows: During that week, fortnight, month or more, the teacher has taught the first two or three chapters of the Algebra to the class. Then along comes a boy just starting in. Before he can study Algebra with the others he must learn those first two or three chapters. Consequently the teacher has to spend valuable time teaching him work which has been taught once already. It takes almost as long to teach one pupil a topic as it takes to teach a whole class. And this time really belongs, not to the boy who comes in late, but to the other pupils of the class. In his hurry "to catch up to the others" the student rarely gets a thorough knowledge of the chapters he so hastily over. As a result we hear him say later on that he "hates Algebra" or that he "can't get it into his head." We know that unless a student thoroughly grasps the earliest principles he cannot be expected to grasp principles based on them. What is true of Algebra in this regard is also true of several other subjects, and the general principle involved applies to every pupil whatever his age or grade. Thus it is unfair to the teacher, to the student, and to the other boys and girls.

The undersigned therefore requests that if there are any parents in the Macleod School District who have not yet started their boy or girl to school that they will please send them along on Monday, September 13.

Yours respectfully,

COLIN B. FAULKNER

SPLENDID NEW ROLE FOR CHARLES RAY IN NEW PHOTOPLAY

Celebrated Paramount Star Appears as Country Boy in "Hay Foot, Straw Foot"

Charles Ray has an entirely new character in his latest Paramount photoplay which will be displayed at the Empress theatre for two days commencing Friday next. In this story, written by Julien Josephson Mr. Ray appears as a country youth who undergoes the adversities of training at a modern military camp.

The story has the atmosphere of camp life and Mr. Ray portrays the character of a youth who bears the name of Ulysses. Grant Briggs and is expected by his grandfather to live up to all the moral standards of the great American general.

When Ulysses hits the camp armed with his grandfather's musket of '61 and all ready to go after the Kaiser, he is the butt of many jokes by his more sophisticated comrades, and when he lets drop the remark that he once took a correspondence course in sleight-of-hand he is prevailed upon to appear as a performer at the camp theatre.

He arrays himself in an oriental gown and makes his bow as the great Abdul ben Mazzazza. All his tricks go wrong, however, and he retires in confusion, much to the uproarious delight of the rookies. He gains the sympathy, however, of Betty Martin, a village girl who is appearing as a dancer.

He is quite smitten but after he sees her perform her dance, he tells her he is sorry he cannot include her among his acquaintances. Later, however, he protects her by whipping the villain and refusing to tell why he did so. His silence results in his being summoned for court-martial. The girl rushes to the court-martial and confesses that he is shielding her.

He is commended by his officer and Betty lets him know that he stands as high in her affections. Doris Lee is the leading woman.

The many readers of Rod and Gun In Canada who are interested in the fiction section of the magazine will be pleased to note that George Gilbert, the well known short story writer has written an absorbing romance staged in the great outdoors entitled Waters of Rejoicing. This along with ten other stories and articles together with the various Departments make up the September number of Canada's greatest sporting publication. With the coming of the autumn the "gunman's" thoughts turn to ducks and deer and this number contains several good stories telling how the other fellow got his quota of Canada's water fowl and big game. Rod and Gun In Canada, is published monthly at Woodstock, Ontario, by W. J. Taylor Limited.

NAVIGABLE WATERS PROTECTION ACT

R.S.C. CHAPTER 115

Arthur G. Peuchen hereby gives notice that he has under Section 7 of the said act deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and in the office of the District Registrar of the Land Registry District of Calgary, Alberta, a description of the Site and the Plans of the proposed Dams and Booms to be constructed on the Old Man River for Log Storage in the North West Quarter of Section 11 and South West Quarter of Section 14, Township 9, Range 26, West 4th Meridian.

And take notice that after the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication of this notice Arthur G. ## NOTES BY THE WAY

(By T. Clarke.)

Yakima, Washington,

August 15, 1920.

Dear Folks:—Just returned from an extended trip which took us over a great part of the northern and north-western portions of this state. We found parts of it very dry, the grain looking as bad as I have ever seen in parts of our own province in seasons of extreme drought. The wheat in such places averages 12 inches in height, is very short in the head, and is said to yield six bushels to the acre. The fruit trees in these dry places look very sickly and many are dying, the amount of water required not being forthcoming as was hoped. But take the sections where water is in abundance and conditions are reversed. The wheat and oats are grand, fine large heads well filled with plump kernels. The wheat will yield, it is thought, from 35 to 60 bushels to the acre, while the oats look like a 90 or 100 bushel yield. Much of the wheat and oats has already been cut and stacked and the fields have a fine appearance as one passes along. The second crop of alfalfa is being cut and will yield, I should imagine, at least a ton and a half per acre. The coast towns get a considerable portion of this fodder, as owing to the rains and extreme humidity it is next to impossible to cure hay there, the only feed that can be raised with any degree of success being cut hay. The rainy season this year lasted until the beginning of July, which, I am told, is most unusual. We visited Tacoma, a bustling city of about 112,000 people, a large number of important industries are centered here. Some of the more important streets leading into the downtown section are a test to the nervous owing to the abruptness of the descent. The capital of the state, Olympia, was our next stop. The state buildings are imposing and there are many fine residences, but the city itself is quiet as compared with Seattle and Tacoma. We camped for the night at Priest Point Park, a beautiful spot overlooking the blue waters of the Sound. Swines, merry-go-rounds and other amusements are provided for the youngsters, also a dancing pavilion, boating and bathing for the older children. Taken altogether, it is almost a delightful place in which to spend a brief holiday. Free wood, water and light are provided by the city, tourists only being permitted to camp there. The city of Seattle was reached late in the afternoon of the following day. The city boasts of the tallest building west of New York city, it is called the Smith building and is erected of some white material 42 stories high and is a landmark not to be passed unnoticed. Passing near the water front we noticed a line of nearly fifty large cargo boats about completed when the Armistice was declared. These vessels, representing millions of money, are ready for service, but government red-tape may allow them to rot at their moorings before they can be put to any use. Americans point to these vessels as one of the extravagances of the late war for which the next few generations will have to be taxed heavily.

We kept moving until Squamish Lake was reached, where we pitched our tents among immense firs and cedar trees, some of which were fully eight feet in diameter. Huckleberries both red and black, also blackberries and black-cap berries were very plentiful and were to be had for the picking.

Bellingham was the next stopping place. It is a sawmill and cannery town and is ideally situated on Puget Sound, as is Blain, the next town farther north, located near the Canadian border.

From here I made a jump to Vancouver, B.C., some 40 miles distant. New Westminster, on the mighty Fraser river is passed enroute. Vancouver is a brilliantly lighted city, one of the finest I have seen on the trip. I noticed many changes since I last visited the city, now nearly 10 years ago. Crossed Burrard Inlet on the fine steam terry which consumes fifteen minutes in making the four mile run across. The city of North Vancouver has also grown considerably. During the war a large number of ships, both steel and wood, were built here but there is no such activity now, there being but one steel ship on the stocks at this time. As a residential city it cannot be beaten. The Great War Veterans of Vancouver were displaying a particularly good exhibit of war trophies which drew large crowds. Our return trip over the Cascade mountains was uneventful. The road we travelled, which is called the Sunset highway, reaches the summit of the mountains at an altitude of 3,000 feet and is in perfect condition. Irrigation is a live subject here, but in the northern section of the state it is not needed, the rainfall being sufficient for all purposes. Lake Kechelus, in the Cascades, is to be enlarged at tremendous cost. It is a sheet of water 13 miles long and four miles wide but when the contemplated improvements are finished it will be nearly 20 miles long and will be 70 feet deeper than present normal depth, which is 450 feet. The water thus controlled will irrigate hundreds of thousands of acres of land at present unproductive. Then there is the Columbia basin project to water 2,000,000 acres of arid land, as well as many smaller schemes now working to their full capacity. Verily, water is king. On the trip we had trouble in getting at the gas we required, the price varying, the lowest 24½c while the highest price asked was 40c, this was at the Summit garage, 3,000 feet above sea level. The weather here at present is exceedingly hot, thermometers yesterday registering 104 degrees in the sun and 92 in the shade. I am told the apple and pear crops are up to the average but that other fruits will be scarce, peaches especially so. Watermelons, cantaloupes, corn and vegetables are coming in in large quantities and prices are coming down on the run.

In France all roads more than 33 feet wide must be lined with trees on each side.

THE ANNUAL LABOR DAY

Labor Day throughout the Dominion was celebrated on Monday. It is the annual recurrence of a day which, apart from being a national holiday, symbolizes the fact that Labor has its official acknowledgment as a national entity with an important place in the national economy.

Labor Day in Canada will dawn with conditions of the most favorable kind so far as regards stability and freedom from unrest and discontentment, as compared to conditions in the Empire and in other parts of the world. The working men in Canada to-day if they choose to compare conditions here with those which are prevailing the world over, have good reason to congratulate themselves that so far as disposition of employment goes, they are in a far better position than their brethren elsewhere where labor and other troubles are acute.

Today there cannot be said to be anything in the way of unemployment in Canada. The labor market is not congested; if anything it is rather the other way. The working man, as a rule, is prosperous. In some industries, such as the mines, it is a case of not being able to get men in sufficient numbers to man the industry.

On a day such as Labor Day it will not be amiss for Labor to take stock of the present industrial situation in Canada, with the tranquility and the prosperity that prevail, and contrast these with the unrest, with the consequences of that unrest, which is going on in other places. The working man, as he is wont to be called, who is contented does not of his own free will go out in search of trouble. Trouble there is bound to be in the ranks of labor at some time or another. This, though it sometimes forces itself, cannot be said to be welcomed by honest Labor, even, perforce, it is so at times that it must be. But the less trouble in its ranks the more will honest labor be pleased. To minimize as far as possible trouble, and the consequences of trouble, and not to stretch out to seek for the same is bound to be wise counsel. In this policy those who have the interest of Labor sincerely at heart will be happily employed.

Labor in Canada has its own problems. Other countries have theirs. It does not always follow that the problem of one country is the problem of the other. With this in mind there is always the danger that arises that, in the great scope of human activity comprised in Labor, all problems, no matter where they occur, will be apt to be treated alike as concerning Labor as a whole. With this follows the risk that the tranquility of Labor as it is in one country will be destroyed by the consideration that the trouble in another in one which is common to Labor in general; this without taking into serious account the difference in local conditions and reflecting that what is a problem in one country is not of necessity the same problem in another.

Labor has the giant's strength which can be beneficially or viciously used. Labor troubles reflect on the whole community, with very often a boomerang effect on Labor itself. Troubles of necessity there must be, with the means taken to adjust them. It will be in the interest of Labor not to add to these unnecessarily by thinking that problems elsewhere apply also to it, and thus magnify what may be minor grievances. To preserve the happy condition Labor enjoys in Canada, when contrasted with what we view when we cast our eyes overseas, should be the aim of Labor here.—Lethbridge Herald.

THE UNIVERSITY AND THE FARMER

The University of Alberta is co-operating with the United Farmers of Alberta in supplying technical information for the junior members of the United Farmers. The professors in the College of Agriculture prepare treatises which are distributed by the United Farmers to the junior members. These treatises deal with such subjects as the study of farm crops.

R. Newton, Assistant Professor in the Department of Field Husbandry at the College of Agriculture, University of Alberta, is making an investigation of the situation regarding forage crops, legumes and grasses in the Peace River country.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS MEET

At several meetings of Shorthorn breeders held in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, resolutions were passed asking the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association to double the registration and transfer fees, the extra money accruing from this increase to be returned to the provincial associations to be used as prize money at the smaller fairs. The recommendation will receive the attention of the Dominion Association in due course. There has, however, been a general increase in the fees and registration of nearly all the Live Stock Associations working under the Canadian Live Stock Records. The Shorthorn fees are now as follows:—To members: animals under one month, $1 for every registration; animals over twelve months and under five years, $10 for each registration. Animals over five years cannot be registered. To non-members the fee for registration of animals of under twelve months is $2 for each registration and for animals over twelve months $10 for each registration.

SIR GEO. FOSTER'S 73rd BIRTHDAY

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Sir George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, is today receiving the good wishes of his cabinet colleagues and hosts of others on the occasion of his 73rd birthday. Sir George was born on September 3, 1847.

With the exception of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the veteran minister of trade and commerce has seen the longest parliamentary service under confederation of any public man. He has served 34 years, 1 month and 19 days, against Sir Wilfrid's 44 years, 11 months and 27 days, and Sir John Macdonald's 23 years, 8 months and 12 days.

Sir George Foster has been a minister of the crown for the longest period of any one since confederation. His service to date totals 19 years, 5 months, 26 days. Sir John Macdonald, 19 years, 1 month, 19 days; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, 16 years, 1 month, 4 days.

Outstanding Orator
The minister of trade and commerce is the oldest living privy councillor in Canada, and he had long been recognized as one of the outstanding orators in parliament, which place he holds to the present, despite his advancing years.

As a member of the cabinet he has travelled probably more extensively on business journeys than any other minister. He has been twice to England and France and has also visited Manchuria, Korea, China, Japan and other countries in connection with his duties.

It is a notable fact that Sir

George was the first of the British ministers to enter German territory after the signing of the armistice. He journeyed in connection with the peace conference to which he accompanied Sir Robert Borden as one of Canada's delegates.—Calgary Herald

REACH & CO.

We wrote about advertising last week, and still want another one before letting you know the bargains of the future, why people have a little money. An advert. is readable matter, but with an empty pocket book and no credit it is like an insult. Dangle cheap prices before you, or taking a hungry person to a down street of shops with eatables displayed at ridiculously low figures, saying to them, oh, look at the delicious pig's sausage rolls, etc., I will sell you anything you want at half price. Yet you still tempt the poor mortals in like fashion by putting prices in the window or weekly paper with cuts so ridiculous that a person who wants to have things but has no money, must silently curse you for this seeming display of indifference to the knowledge of how poor they are. It is as bad as having a bunch of green carrot tops over a donkey's manger and holding his bin with straw to eat. But in the meantime we have been trusting the farmers for three years back, and in many cases no settlement, waiting for this year, many of them will be again disappointed, they had as visitors, hail, wind, cutworms, hoppers etc. You who have been lucky can relieve the situation by hurrying up with both feet and give us some money directly you have received your returns from threshing, for we need it badly and immediately.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE CROP REPORT

EDMONTON, Aug. 30.—Since the previous report issued on Aug. 15th, harvesting weather has been particularly favorable. The weather has been comparatively cool with bright sunshine. This has been ideal for filling and ripening.

Reports from the south and central parts of the province indicate eighty per cent. of the grain cut excluding green feed. Through the northern parts of the province fifty to sixty per cent. of the wheat is cut and cutting of oats and barley well under way. Lights frosts have occurred in various places but no serious damage has been reported up to the time of writing, which means that particularly all the wheat in past the stage where it can be damaged and the greater portion of oats and barley are sufficiently well advanced to ensure a good sample. There is not sufficient threshing done yet to form an estimate of yields based on actual returns, but the yield will be heavy and the sample good. All districts report plenty of labor but wages are higher than usual.

U. S. SUGAR SPECULATORS LOSE HEAVILY

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—The United States department of justice has declined to come to the assistance of the sugar speculators of the United States who are faced with heavy losses because of the recent slump in sugar prices. In Canada however, the speculators were more fortunate. Here the board of commerce is following a theory laid down by it, probably in anticipation of such a situation some time ago, namely, that it will be the board's duty in good time it hopes, to carefully protect the trader on a falling market by permitting him to average his costs down, as it may now carefully protect the consumer in compelling the trader to average his costs up.

Advantage of Control
While sugar has dropped to 15 cents in the United States because the law of supply and demand has been allowed to take its course, in Canada the price has been fixed at 22 cents, and shows no present signs of coming down. Price fixing on sugar (or rather limitation of profit) was instituted more than a year ago, and then for no apparent reason than to teach a dissatisfied people the advantages of control, the board suddenly withdrew its control altogether. Then in July last control was once more instituted and the price again fixed.

The United States slump has apparently come about through heavy importation from countries outside of Cuba, including Java, Czecho-Slovakia, and Argentina. Speculators have been caught on a slumped market. The old law of supply and demand has again reasserted itself and the justice department states that so far as it is concerned it shall take its course without artificial restrictions.

Permitted to Unload
It is apparently the intention of the board of commerce here to permit the dealers to unload the product of high priced raws upon the public before permitting the law of supply and demand to take its course. But the trouble is that all the sugar now being retailed in Canada is not the product of high priced raws.

Just how far the board intends to continue its restrictions and just how far the government proposes to permit it to do so, is not known. The board at the present time is functioning but poorly and is by no means a hive of industry. The government has apparently forgotten its existence since the retirement of W. F. O'Connor, and the latter and more sensational departure of Mr. Murdock. At present the board consists of Captain White, formerly secretary of the board, Major Dillon, who during the war was connected with the work of internment of foreign prisoners in Canada, and F. A. Acland, deputy minister of labor, who is still carrying on the duties of the labor department.

That organization at the outset was supposed to be temporary. It would never appear to be permanent. In the meantime it is interesting to speculate as to how far the board is investigating the question of how far a slump in the price of hides and wool is being reflected by a corresponding slump in the cost of boots and clothing.—Calgary Herald.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Canadian customs receipts are steadily increasing notwithstanding an adverse exchange rate. The Canadian people are slow to learn.

Deporting Chinese dope pedlars is good business, but it is not likely to stop the dope traffic. It seems to be second nature for the Celestial to engage in this illicit business, and some of them would not object to deportation provided they had a successful fling at the game.

NEGROES WANT TO GO BACK TO AFRICA

A convention was held recently in New York of 15,000 American citizens of African descent. The proceedings at the huge gathering caused amusement among the white people in the United States, but the affair itself emphasizes once more that if Great Britain has an Irish problem to settle, our neighbors to the south have perhaps as difficult a nut to crack in the negro question. At this convention the Moses of the colored Americans was Marcus Harvey. This colored president wore a gorgeous robe of purple edged with gold and green, and his rhetoric was as variegated as his gown of office. "Too long," he said, "we colored people have been the victims of the whites. Our salvation lies in Africa, the land of our forefathers. We must all get back to Africa or lose our nationality." This speech was echoed by the delegates, who sang lustily the new negro National Anthem, "Ethiopia, its dar where I want to go."

The convention not only adopted a constitution for the negro race, but drew up a bill of rights in which the grievances of the colored people of the United States are expressed in no uncertain language. After asserting the claim of "Africa for the African," the document declares that the negro is entitled to even-handed justice before all courts of law and equity in whatever country he may be found, and when this is denied him on account of his race or color, such denial is an insult to the race as a whole, and should be resented by the entire body of Negroes. "No lover of fair play can find fault with this clause. White people in the south will not be likely to fall in with the next clause—'We deprecate the use of the term 'nigger' as applied to Negroes, and demand that the word 'Negro' be written with a capital N.'"

Even while the convention was sitting, and while Moses Harvey was calling for the expulsion of the white races from Africa at the sword's point, if necessary, the king of an African tribe arrived in New York and instantly gave an interview to the papers, in which he said that Liberia did not want the American colored gentleman, and that the hundreds of native black kings in Africa were quite satisfied with present conditions and would resent the policy, "Africa for the Africans." According to this African potentate the sign "Not Wanted" will stare Moses Harvey in the face when he conducts his people to the promised land.

It is all very well for the delegates to sing to banish accompaniment. "Ethiopia, its dar where I want to go," but how many of the happy-go-lucky dandies in the United States would care to go back to the African jungle? If Moses Harvey could ever get them there, they would soon be clamoring for the flash-pots of Mississippi.

It is significant, however, that the colored millions of the United States are beginning to harbor the self-determination idea. What would the Irish-Americans say if their negro fellow-citizens started a Sinn Fein movement in the southern states and set up a colored republic?

PROGRESS OF COW TESTING

Previous to the year 1918, thirty-five dairy record centers situated in six provinces with most of the work being done in Ontario and Quebec had been established. Owing to many requests from assistants, a change was made to meet the demands. A system has been adopted which enables the Dairy Branch to give help to every farmer, no matter where he is situated and the cow testing work has spread through all the Prairie Provinces and in sections of other provinces which were not formerly touched by the Dairy Record Centers. Complete information regarding the objects of cow testing and the present plan for carrying on the work is given in bulletin number 58, Dairy and Cold Storage Series. This bulletin "The Progress of Cow Testing" is by A. H. White, Esq., B.S.A., Senior Dairy Proctor, and may be secured free upon application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Some of the results obtained through the cow testing work are, better methods of feeding and breeding, more interest in the work of the farm and increased production with resulting increase in the value of the stock.

BUSINESS ASTIGMATISM

Do you consider your store just a part of the town? Or do you consider it a vital part of the trade-area? Can you see just the business possibilities of your town? Or can you see beyond the limits of your town, out into the country where the farmers live?

If necessary get an aeroplane, go up in it and see this territory immediately surrounding your town. It is your natural trade-area, and those farmers out there are real members of your community; they are an essential element in your scheme of success.

When you have caught this vision of the new order of things in rural merchandising, you will realize the great opportunities before you. You will have begun to acquire the knowledge that will some day dispel the senseless barrier which so frequently exists between farmers and the town folk.

Make your store or business a necessary part of the town trade-area.

AS YOU WERE

He was being demobbed and didn't care what happened.

"Now, my man," started the sergeant-major, haughtily, "answer my questions smartly. What did you do for a living before you joined the army?"

"I was a clerk in an office," replied the private, happily.

"Washing out the ink-pots, I suppose?" sneered the autocrat.

"No, sir," replied the private, sweetly, "we employed a retired sergeant-major for that sort of work."

MACLEOD CHAUTAUQUA COMMITTEE MEETS

A meeting was held at the Town Hall on Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing committees for the forthcoming Chautauqua Festival Season, which takes place at Macleod October 9, 11 and 12.

The organizer for the Dominion Chautauqua, Mrs. Chas. Callow, was present and outlined the program which is a particularly strong one this year.

The program includes Robert Parker Miles and Capt. Norman Allan Inrie, lecturers; Mrs. Roseth Bred lady dramatic interpreter; Fay Epperson, child mimic; The Newell Concert Party; Serbian Orchestra and the Garner Jubilee Singers. Season tickets are now on sale and a successful season is anticipated.

The following officers and committees were appointed: President Dr. Kirk; Sec'y-Treas., W. H. Tasker; Ticket Committee: Messrs. Tasker, Marks and Young; Advertising Committee: Messrs. Leather, Sutherland and Stewart; Arrangement Committee: Messrs. Buchart, Robb and Andrews.

A full meeting of the guarantors will be held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, 13th inst. at 8.30 sharp.

Samuel Jack, a grocer in "Little Russia," Sarnia, had his store broken into, and 40 pairs of boots and other merchandise stolen.

Rev. R. J. Murphy, of the Wardville Anglican church, is away on his holidays, and his congregation is worshipping with the Presbyterians.

The only trouble about the Coaldale crops this year is that they are so heavy no one dare estimate whether they'll be 40 or 50 or 60 bushels. Wet or dry, it's all the same to Coaldale.

SUNFLOWERS FOR MILCH COWS

At the Montana Experiment Station one lot of milch cows was fed grain and clover hay, while another lot was fed grain, clover hay, and sunflower ensilage. Both lots received the same amount of grain. The result of milk yield was an average of 37.33 lbs. per day per head for the lot receiving grain and clover. The lot receiving sunflower ensilage in addition yielded an average of 34.35 lb. per head. A saving of approximately 9 lb. of clover hay per head per day was effected by substituting sunflower ensilage. An average daily allowance of 3 lb. of sunflower ensilage was fed to each cow in the best producing lot. No objectionable flavor was noticed in the milk of the cows fed with the sunflower ensilage.
